

INTERESTED IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS?

The Fletcher School Summer Session 2012

May 21 to June 29

- Enroll in up to two summer courses at The Fletcher School, the oldest graduate school of international affairs in the United States
- Explore the complex political, economic, legal and business issues facing the world today
- Study among an international community of scholars, professionals and students
- Be taught by distinguished, internationally respected faculty

Courses Offered:

- International Human Rights Law and Policy
- Processes of International Negotiation
- Decision Making and Public Policy
- Development Aid in Practice
- Introduction to Economic Theory
- Contemporary World Economic Issues
- Foundations in Financial Accounting and Corporate Finance

Certificate in International Relations Program: For those desiring to pursue or enhance careers in international fields

For additional information and to register after November 15
please visit

www.fletcher.tufts.edu/summerschool